Mondays 7:30-9PM

Sept. 18 & 25, Oct. 2 & 9

Wave & Circuit on The Hip Strip

829 S. Higgins St

$160 for all four sessions

Explore musical improvisation with Naomi Siegel, acclaimed musician, composer, and educator. Develop improvisation skills for any musical context in a nurturing environment. Using creative limitations and techniques to build listening awareness, participants will walk away from this workshop with an increased connection to making music and new ways to practice individually and in ensembles. No prior improvisation experience necessary.

Classes will include:

- Sonic Meditations by Pauline Oliveros
- Improvisation Games
- Improvising with Drones
- Exploring the Feminine Principle in Improvisation
- Improvising in the context of certain genres
- Improvising in small and large groups

Who:

This class is for high school age students and older. Participants must have at least a year of proficiency on their instruments. Vocalists are welcome!
