Missoula Farmers' Market Expansion Starts Saturday
Welcoming back beverages and cottage food vendors

[Missoula, Montana]: Starting this Saturday, Missoula Farmers' Market will welcome cottage food vendors back to the market, including bakers, candy makers, beverage vendors, flower/plant purveyors and canned goods creators. They will join agricultural producers selling greens, potatoes, onions, tomatoes and other produce, plant starts, eggs, meat and mushrooms.

This expansion includes the Tuesday Evening Markets which run from 5-7pm June through September. Both markets accept SNAP, WIC, Senior Coupons And Prescription Produce vouchers.

"Missoulians love to shop at the farmers' market with a cup of coffee and something yummy," says Meredith Printz, Manager of the Missoula Farmers' Market. "We're pleased that we can now offer a more diverse array of products to choose from."

The Market is committed to ensuring the safety of all participants, and asks anyone experiencing COVID-19 symptoms to stay home. All Health Department guidelines will be followed. Masks are strongly encouraged.

For those who prefer a contactless experience, the online marketplace will continue. Ordering is open Monday at noon through Thursday at 7pm at missoulafarmersmarket.com.
